Rev. M. L. Robinson.

Dear Sir:

My reason for not acknowledging your very kind letter sent me Dec 29th I had a relapse Dec. 27th. Today being the first time since that date that I have been able to leave the Hotel. Your letter was a comfort to me and pleased me that you remembered Mrs Jung after so many years. You have no idea how distressed I have been as her loss to me it seems at times that I may see her again. Remember me to Mrs. Robinson and again thanking you for thinking of us and your kindness in writing. I am

Very truly Yours

Jacob L. Jung.

My dear Doctor Robinson:

You are at liberty to publish my letter of January 29 if you think it will serve any good purpose and if you think my language is sufficiently restrained as not to give offense.

I feel rather deeply when I hear or read some of these extreme pacifist utterances and at times may be a bit intemperate in the use of language. I realize that more flies can be caught with sugar than with vinegar, but I also yield occasionally to the injunction to "swat the fly" when the situation becomes particularly irritating.

I stand by all that I said and you can publish the letter if you so desire. Should you do so will you kindly send me a copy and also transmit one to the Editor The Army and Navy Register, 511 Eleventh Street, N. W., Washington, D. C., and the Editor The Army and Navy Journal, 1701 Connecticut Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., both of which greatly appreciate your stand on the subject under consideration.

Cordially yours,

J. E. YATES
Chief of Chaplains

My dear Sir:

Permit me to express my gratitude to you for commendation of the editorial which was printed in THE PRESBYTERIAN. Some papers knocked us somewhat but I am confident that we are right. I wonder if you would allow me to print this letter under the head "What People Write". I will not do so until I hear from you.

Most sincerely yours,

Editor.
